Return to Play!

As of the writing of this article, we still have no idea when soccer will start again in Southern California. I have heard of some school districts starting back with in-person classroom instruction. This is a good sign as the soccer teams are closer to getting back to practice.

Please continue to read your monthly newsletter the Touchline, & The Official Word. It is your information newsletter to keep current with our soccer community.

While we get closer to returning to play, please be sure you are ready by checking the Cal South registered officials list. I can't assign you to any games unless your name appears on that site.
